

Disclaimer

DirectTax observes the utmost care when preparing the content of this website.

DirectTax aims to provide correct and complete information on this website. It can, however, not guarantee that this information is always complete, correct and up to date. DirectTax does not accept any liability whatsoever for any damages that arise due to incorrect, incomplete information or use of, reliance upon or acting according to the information supplied on this website. DirectTax shall neither be liable for any damages or losses deriving from your visit to this website, including, but not limited to, viruses that may infect your computer equipment, software or data.

The information mentioned on this website is only provided as a general source of information. The supply of information or the presentation of recommendations must not be qualified as legal advice. DirectTax does not accept any liability for damages, of any nature whatsoever, that are the direct or indirect result of actions or decisions that are based on information obtained on or through this website.

The website may contain links to other websites. DirectTax has no control over these kinds of linked websites and it is not responsible for the content of linked websites or links on linked websites. Placing of a link to a website of third parties does not imply that DirectTax endorses the information that is available there and it is merely meant to assist the user of this website and to offer a possibility of obtaining further information.

DirectTax does not guarantee that emails or other electronic messages sent to DirectTax are received and processed in a timely fashion. It does not accept liability for the consequences of late receipt or processing of emails or other electronic messages sent to DirectTax.

Any and all intellectual property rights, including, but not limited to, copyrights, trademark rights and database rights, in respect of the information, text, images, logos, photos and illustrations on this website and in respect of the layout and design of this website are vested in DirectTax and/or the licensors of DirectTax. The information on the website is only meant for personal, non-commercial use. The reproduction and disclosure of (parts of) the content of this website for non-personal use, in any form and in any way whatsoever, is not permitted without prior written consent of DirectTax.

Consent is given to take note of the website and the information and to make copies of the same for personal use, including the storage, printing, reproduction and distribution of information, provided that the information is not altered and a reference to this disclaimer is included in the said copy.

Any other use of the website and the information available on the same, also including the creation of links (hypertext links and deep links), is not permitted without express prior written consent of DirectTax.